Kovva

KOVVA

Kovva, a Cornish word for hideaway

KOVVA

A CORNISH WORD FOR HIDEAWAY

A place to gather, to tend an idea until it's ready, and to let the right people collide. The word carries the Duchy's rebellious streak, and an older human instinct beneath it: to meet somewhere sheltered and trusted where real innovation can thrive.

KOVVA

Working with nature not against it

THAT'S WHAT WE'VE BUILT

Kovva is a purpose-built venue set within Innovation Nursery's 140 acres of Cornish countryside. One generous, open room that adapts to whatever you need.

Working with nature, not against it – its materials are novel and low-impact, the sun powers it and the result is Cornwall's first premium sustainable event space.

A room where the very walls tell a story of innovation.

KOVVA

Innovation is a social practice, not a solitary endeavour

INSIDE THE NURSERY

Innovation Nursery is a 140 acre campus in Cornwall and a global community that believes innovation happens as a social practice not a solitary endeavour.

The purpose of Innovation Nursery is to fuel eccentric ideas by doing three things beautifully:

01.
Scan the horizon of what's next, unearthing the remarkable and eccentric ideas being explored and tell their story.

02.
Curate irresistible encounters and collisions where topics are experienced, theories are challenged and hunches are developed.

03.
Nurture a community of brand leaders with the means to change the world and local makers, creators and misfits thinking about the future. Kovva is our home stadium of ideas that morphs from grand debates to intimate immersions and experiences.

Around it, new ideas are being tested, built and grown in real time. You'll walk through that work on your way in, and carry some of it home.

FOOD AND DRINK

An off-grid brewery and experimental kitchen sit just beyond Kovva's doors, ready to lift your event with food and drink made a few steps away.

We work with the best growers, fishers and makers in Cornwall, so every plate tells guests exactly where they are.

Pull up to a long table, pour something brewed on site, and let the evening unfold slowly.

Come and hide away for a while

BEYOND THE DOORS

Step outside and the land takes over. A working landscape, open sky, and the Cornish coast a few miles down the lane.

Bring people here to collide, and they'll leave with more than they came with.

Come and hide away for a while.

KOVVA

Whatever you're planning, Kovva bends to fit. Dry hire or something more curated, twelve people round a long table or seven hundred on their feet, an intimate immersion or a sprawling collaboration: every event here is shaped around you.

We build bespoke packages from scratch and stay close throughout, with a dedicated team tending the details from the first conversation to the last guest out the door. Bring us the hunch.

We'll build the room around it.
